"I was not happy when my daughter told me that she had set up an appointment for the three of us to meet with the Longevity Solutions Coach from Vibrant Aging Solutions, but it only took a few minutes and my feelings had totally changed for the better.

We went in for the Family Discussion Session and it was a very eye opening experience! I had not realized how concerned our daughter was about a lot of things, and we were able to verbalize our concerns as well. My husband and I discovered that we were both afraid of out living our money and we really had not been facing our age, health and finances realistically. We both were concerned about being a burden and an embarrassment to our daughter, but we were relieved to find out through this meeting that we weren't. She just wanted us to live the best quality of life possible in our older years, and this was why she wanted us to meet with the Longevity Solutions Coach.

The time we spent going over our thoughts and fears and discussing our circumstances with someone we learned we could trust was invaluable, and we have gone back for the Legacy, Age in Place and Real Estate Sessions each of them giving us great information and a more solid, comfortable, definable direction.

Don't wait, seek help today! We are forever thankful that we did, and the bonus is how much it has made a difference in our daughter's quality of life and peace of mind too!"
